

Fish complements for classy courtyard

For over ten years the COURTYARD RESTAURANT in Aberdeen's Alford Lane was revered as one of the city's best and most loved eateries. The city's discerning diners mourned its closure in 1999.

But now, THE COURTYARD is back, offering a unique West End dining experience. Pioneering the venture is Chris Tonner who is the name behind the highly successful La Stella in the Adelphi. Owner of BEETROOT RESTAURANTS, Chris will put his knowledge of food and creative talent to use in the kitchen, offering a seasonally created menu with extensive daily fish specials. Joining Chris is former head chef at Café 52, Colin Waddell, bringing extra flair and experience to the kitchen team.

James Ferrier, the attentive restaurant manager will ensure patrons are well looked after, not only with delicious food, but drinks to compliment your meal such as Blue Moon Wheat Beer and the famous Segafredo Coffee.

The ground floor restaurant has a real classy feel with a predominance of greens and browns in the décor. Seasonal menus make it perfect for both lunch and dinner. The second floor offers the same irresistible tastes and is perfect for a private family occasion or business get together – especially with the Festive Season approaching. Book now to avoid disappointment.

Heavenly bistro shines bright

Beetroot Restaurants may be expanding and new gastronomic treats being created but LA STELLA, their original bistro restaurant continues to vie as the best eatery in town.

Chris Tonner, owner and Head Chef has encouraged his kitchen team to research, experiment and create new tastes and Stuart Bruce, who heads up the kitchen team, ensures this restaurant maintains the highest standard with inventive and daring menus.

Every season hails a new menu equally exciting using the finest produce and ingredients from local suppliers. Freshly caught fish and seafood from Stonehaven are included in the daily specials.

LA STELLA is a unique dining experience and one not to be rushed. Enjoy a casual, relaxing lunch with friends, business colleagues or a cosy intimate meal just for the two of you.
